Important Time-Sensitive Information

FOR ALL STUDENTS: CITIZENSHIP, QUEBEC RESIDENCE AND TUITION FEES

McGill tuition fees vary according to the citizenship status, Quebec residency status (if applicable) and study program of the admitted student. Fees are subject to change. All newly admitted undergraduate students must prove their citizenship status to McGill in order to determine the correct tuition. This includes Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada. Details on documents needed to support a particular tuition are available at: www.mcgill.ca/legaldocuments. For information on tuition and ancillary fees, see: www.mcgill.ca/student-accounts/tuition-fees for financial aid: www.mcgill.ca/studentaid.

IMMIGRATION REQUIREMENTS FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

To study legally at McGill, students who are not citizens or permanent residents of Canada must obtain:

1. Québec Acceptance Certificate (CAQ) from the Ministère de l'Immigration, de la Diversité et de l'Inclusion, Québec;
2. Study permit from Citizenship and Immigration Canada. McGill University's CIC unique identifier is O19359011033.

Immigration officials will need to estimate your McGill attendance costs and will require printed paper copies of:

1. This 2-page admission letter;
2. The tuition for your McGill program: www.mcgill.ca/student-accounts/tuition-fees

Obtaining a study permit takes considerable time, in some cases up to 6 months. We urge international students to start the immigration process immediately after accepting our offer of admission. Occasionally, admission to McGill may be offered late in the cycle making it difficult to obtain a study permit in time for the start of term. Students encountering such difficulties should notify our office in writing as soon as possible. You will find details on immigration processes at:

www.mcgill.ca/internationalstudents/immigration-documents/documents/caq-application-guide.

CO-OP WORK PERMIT

Students who are not citizens or permanent residents of Canada, and who are admitted to programs which include a mandatory work component such as a co-op, placement or stage, must obtain a co-op work permit in addition to their study permit. For more information see the McGill International Student Services website at: www.mcgill.ca/internationalstudents.

INTERNATIONAL TUITION FEES

McGill tuition fees, and related charges, vary by the program, level and citizenship of each student. For your own most up-to-date tuition (in Canadian currency), go to: www.mcgill.ca/student-accounts/tuition-fees and select your fee status and program. Print a copy of the resulting statement to present to the immigration official (use Chrome for best formatting results).

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

McGill places a high value on academic integrity in all facets of study. We advise you to learn more about this subject at the Student Rights and Responsibilities website at: www.mcgill.ca/students/srr/. McGill requires all newly admitted students to complete a short tutorial on academic integrity by the end of their first term at McGill. This is accessible under the Student Menu on Minerva.
